Psalm 145:9

Introduction

In the years past during the month of November we have focused on the idea of giving thanks for our daily devotion using various Psalms which express this in some way. Instead of just focusing on the broad idea of thanks, I chosen scripture verses which speak of the goodness of God, one of the main reasons we should give thanks. The majority of days we will read a Psalm, but other days we will read from various chapters in the Old and New Testaments which contain the particular verse reflecting the goodness of God.

My thought is to focus on one of the most important reasons we should give thanks instead of just the concept. I believe if we spend this time around the goodness of God, we will establish a principle in our life which will allow us to see His goodness in every situation we find ourselves. It's often easy to recognize His goodness and give thanks, it's often hard. My desire is that we are able to establish His goodness as a foundational principle in our life so that no matter our circumstances, we will never lose sight of God's goodness.

Some of the Psalms we have read in the past years. Some of the other chapters we've read recently. Some we have never read. We will read the entire chapter and the daily devotion will include the particular verse which prompted my choosing it to be included in the devotion guide. I trust it will be beneficial in establishing a solid foundation which includes always recognizing the goodness of God.
